Ministerial and Administrative Experience (Brief)

For the past 26 years, I have been engaged in Christian ministry, theological education, and academic leadership in a variety of ministerial, administrative, and scholarly capacities. As the first member of my family to pursue theological education, I completed several theological degrees, culminating in the Doctor of Theology (DTh) in 2014, awarded by the Senate of Serampore College (University).

My ministerial and academic service has included teaching and chaplaincy at Manipur Theological College, Manipur; serving as Program Coordinator for Operation Mobilization (OM), Northeast India; and Vice Principal of the Association for Theological Education in Nepal (ATEN), Kathmandu.

Throughout my academic career, I have held a number of significant leadership positions, including Registrar, Director of Administration, Director of Student Life, Director of Resident Life, and Dean of the Department of History of Christianity at Union Biblical Seminary (UBS), Pune. I have also served as Chief Editor of Harding Theological College and as Head of the Department of History of Christianity at Gurukul Lutheran Theological College and Research Institute, Chennai.

Currently, I serve as Editor-in-Chief of the UBS Journal and as a member of the Board of Studies of the Senate of Serampore College (University). In recognition of my academic qualifications and research contributions, I was approved by the Senate of Serampore as a doctoral research supervisor in 2018.

My scholarly contributions have received national recognition. In May 2025, the South Asia Theological Research Institute (SATHRI), in collaboration with the Senate of Serampore College (University), invited me to serve as a resource person for the National Doctoral Research Methodology Seminar for doctoral candidates. Subsequently, in June 2026, I was invited by SATHRI to present a research paper entitled "Theological Issues and Challenges in the Contemporary World Today" at the National Seminar for Doctoral Supervisors. I am married to Dr. Nyimangyang, and we are blessed with a son and a daughter.

Personal Qualities

- A biblical scholar and theological educator whose teaching and research are firmly rooted in the Sola Scriptura principle, committed to the holistic formation of scholar-saints through rigorous biblical scholarship, critical inquiry, intentional discipleship, and academic excellence.
- An accomplished communicator with exceptional interpersonal, intercultural, and leadership skills, adept at engaging diverse academic, ecclesial, and professional communities with clarity, wisdom, and theological discernment.
- A principled, visionary, and servant leader distinguished by integrity, humility, empathy, adaptability, and a collaborative approach to institutional leadership, theological education, and Christian ministry.
- A historian committed to interpreting contemporary global issues and challenges through the lens of history, recognizing climate change, ecological degradation, and environmental sustainability as critical historiographical concerns shaped by historical human decisions and patterns of development. Affirms that historical understanding, interdisciplinary engagement, and collective responsibility are indispensable for fostering a more just, sustainable, and hope-filled future. Grounded in the biblical doctrine of the Imago Dei, this perspective underscores humanity's God-given dignity and responsibility as faithful stewards of creation, calling for ethical leadership and collaborative action in addressing the ecological challenges of the contemporary world.

Leadership Competencies

Demonstrated expertise in advancing student learning, institutional effectiveness, and organizational excellence through strategic leadership, academic administration, curriculum innovation, and faculty development. Proven ability to articulate and implement a shared institutional vision; foster a culture of academic excellence, accountability, and continuous improvement; evaluate and strengthen teaching and learning practices; employ evidence-based assessment to enhance institutional effectiveness; oversee curriculum planning, implementation, and review; mentor faculty, researchers, and students; and design, facilitate, and lead professional, ministerial, and leadership development initiatives that cultivate intellectual rigor, spiritual maturity, servant leadership, and lifelong learning.

Teaching Experience at MTh & BD levels

At the Doctoral Level

As noted above, my academic qualifications and experience for doctoral supervision were formally recognized by the Senate of Serampore College (University) in 2018. Since that time, I have served as an examiner for doctoral dissertations and doctoral assessment papers, contributing to the doctoral evaluation process for the past nine years.

It should be noted that two doctoral dissertations have not been included in the accompanying list, although their evaluation has already been completed. As the examination results have not yet been officially declared by the Senate of Serampore College (University), these dissertations will be incorporated into the list upon the formal publication of the results.

To date, I have evaluated 9 doctoral dissertations for the Senate of Serampore College (University). Seven of these are listed below, while the remaining two will be included upon the official declaration of their results by the Senate.

Academic and Ministerial Description

Year	Description
2020 to date	Since returning to Union Biblical Seminary (UBS), Pune, in 2020, I have been serving as an Associate Professor in the Departments of History of Christianity and Mission Studies. In addition to teaching at the Bachelor of Divinity (B.D.) and Master of Theology (M.Th.) levels, I have been entrusted with the evaluation of M.Th., Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.), and Doctor of Theology/Doctor of Philosophy (D.Th./Ph.D.) dissertations and theses for the Senate of Serampore College (University). At present, I serve as the Dean of the Department of History of Christianity and as the Director of Resident Life (Married Quarters) at Union Biblical Seminary. I also serve as the Editor-in-Chief of the UBS Journal, providing academic leadership in the advancement of theological research and scholarly publication.

2019-2020	As Associate Professor and Head of the Department of History of Christianity at Gurukul Lutheran Theological College and Research Institute, Chennai, I was engaged in teaching at the Bachelor of Divinity (B.D.), Master of Theology (M.Th.), and doctoral levels. In addition to my academic responsibilities, I provided administrative and pastoral leadership by overseeing the Gurukul Community Clinic and coordinating the care and welfare of married student families residing on campus, integrating academic leadership with institutional service and community engagement.
2018-2019	As an Associate Professor at Harding Theological College, Tura, I was engaged in teaching and mentoring students in theological education. Alongside my teaching responsibilities, I served as the Chief Editor of the college's academic publications, contributing to the promotion of scholarly research, academic writing, and editorial excellence within the institution.
2013-2018	I taught at Union Biblical Seminary, Pune. In addition to my teaching responsibilities, I also served in various administrative capacities, as outlined above, contributing to the academic and institutional development of the Seminary (details are mentioned above).
2014	Obtained Doctor of Theology in History of Christianity (TTS/Senate of Serampore)
2005- 2008	I taught in the Bachelor of Divinity programme of the Association for Theological Education in Nepal (ATEN), Kathmandu. In addition to my teaching responsibilities, I served as the Vice Principal, providing academic and administrative leadership in support of the institution's educational mission.
2005	Obtained Master of Theology in History of Christianity (ETC/Senate of Serampore)

2000-2003	I taught at Manipur Theological College (MTC), Manipur, where I was engaged in theological education and student formation. In addition to my teaching responsibilities, I served as the College Chaplain, providing pastoral leadership, spiritual formation, and counseling services to students and staff. My pastoral ministry extended beyond the college community through active engagement in pastoral care and counseling within the wider ecclesial and local community.
1998-2000	Bachelor of Divinity, awarded by the Senate of Serampore College (University) through Eastern Theological College (ETC). During the B.D. programme, I also completed specialized studies in Missiology and was awarded the Certificate in Missiology , further strengthening my academic foundation in mission studies and cross-cultural ministry.
1997-1998	I served as the Programme Coordinator for Operation Mobilization (OM) Northeast India, where I provided strategic leadership in coordinating evangelistic initiatives across the region. During my tenure, I played a significant role in developing and strengthening an effective interdenominational network that fostered collaboration among churches, mission agencies, and Christian leaders, thereby enhancing the reach and impact of evangelistic and mission activities throughout Northeast India.
1993-1997	Obtained Bachelor of Theology (CTC/Senate of Serampore)
1989-1993	I served with Operation Mobilization (OM) India, where I was actively engaged in evangelistic and cross-cultural ministry. During my tenure, I successfully completed an intensive leadership training programme and subsequently led a mobile ministry team in North India, providing leadership in evangelism, team development, and mission outreach.
